The Obrana a strategie journal is a double blind peer reviewed journal published by the University of Defence, Czech Republic. It focuses on security and strategic studies, military affairs, international relations, and other related issues. It is intended for authors and readers professionally active in areas of security and defence: security experts, members of armed forces, academic staff, students of respective disciplines (security and strategic studies, international relations, political science, etc.).

The aim of the journal is to:

- provide space for presentation and sharing the latest expertise of domestic and foreign origin in the area of security and strategic studies;
- form a platform for more extensive mutual information sharing and communication between the military environment and civil security community;
- cultivate the expert debate over issues related to defence and security.

The Obrana a strategie journal publishes original research and review articles, book reviews in English (preferred and favoured), Czech or Slovak languages. All contributions are published free of charge (both online and in print).

For authors we offer:

- wide reader base;
- indexing and provision of content of the journal to many national and international databases;
- no publication fees;
- high-quality and prompt double-blind peer-review process free of charge;
- simplified formal appearance of papers;
- full access of readers to currently published papers and archive;
- regular biannual issuing both in print and online;
- stable distribution of the journal to key domestic and foreign institutions;
- two hard copies free of charge;
- open and friendly approach to authors.

The Obrana a strategie journal is now indexed with and included in CEEOL, DOAJ, EBSCO, ERIH Plus, Gale, Index Copernicus International, ProQuest, etc.

Interested authors are strongly encouraged to submit their quality articles for review and publication. All articles accepted by the Editorial Board will be reviewed in a double blind peer review process free of charge.
