The Obrana a strategie journal is seeking original research articles related to the occasion of these year’s important anniversaries, which had a great impact on the development of the Czechoslovak state.

1918 - The end of the First World War and founding of Czechoslovakia as well as other Central European states
1938 - The Munich Agreement and the subsequent end of the first Czechoslovak Republic
1948 - The establishment of the Communist regime in Czechoslovakia
1968 - The Warsaw Pact invasion of Czechoslovakia

These momentous dates in Czech and Central European history fundamentally influenced the discussions and approaches to providing security and defence. We invite authors to submit their contributions to policy, strategic, security and defence issues related to the milestones of the last 100 years. The articles are going to be published in the 2/2018 issue.

Submission deadline: October 15

The Obrana a strategie journal is a double-blind peer-reviewed journal published by the University of Defence, Czech Republic. It focuses on security and strategic studies, military affairs, international relations, and other related issues. The journal aims to provide space for presentation and sharing the latest expertise in the area of security and strategic studies and form a platform for more extensive mutual information sharing between the military and civil security community.

For the authors, we offer a wide reader base, indexing, and provision of the content of the journal to many national and international databases, no publication fees as well as high-quality and prompt double-blind peer-review process free of charge.

The Obrana a strategie journal is now indexed with and included in CEEOL, DOAJ, EBSCO, ERIH Plus, Gale, Index Copernicus International, ProQuest, etc.

Authors can submit their papers online or send the manuscript directly to oas@unob.cz. For more information, please, visit the official website of the journal www.obranastragie.cz